IN MEMORIAM

WALTER A. DINWOODIE

Walter A. Dinwoodie, permanent business manager of the Students' Union for fifteen years, died December 20, 1962. He was 57 years old.

Mr. Dinwoodie was born in the town of Lavoy, Alberta, formerly named Dinwoodie after his grandfather. Mr. Dinwoodie spent a number of years teaching school in the Vegreville district, and as secretary of Vegreville municipality.

He was city commissioner in Wetaskawin before taking the Students' Union post. During the Second World War, he served with the RCAF.

He is survived by his wife, Genevieve, one daughter, Marian, and two sons, David and Donald.

During his fifteen years with the Students' Union, Mr. Dinwoodie won many friends among the student body and the community, and contributed to the growth of a strong and independent student government.

In addition to performing his duties, he was always able to find time to discuss the many problems of university life with many students involved in extracurricular activities each year.

He made the Students' Union function. He was the man who helped ideas become realities, who found the ways of making budgets something less than problems, who made the Students' Union the smoothly-functioning operation it has become.

When Mr. Dinwoodie died, the Students' Union administered an annual budget exceeding a quarter of a million dollars, and had assets of more than one million dollars.

Behind the dollar signs, the patient work of Mr. Dinwoodie defies measurement.

The greatest tribute paid to him during his career came shortly before his death, when Students' Council appointed him planning adviser to the Students' Union. It was to be his task to take charge of developing a $2,500,000 expansion of the Students' Union Building. The students knew that with his guidance, the building would become one of significance, and would be outstanding among Canadian student facilities.

His hours were not merely nine to five. He spent a great deal of his own time on student problems. Although modesty was perhaps the foremost characteristic of his personality, his tireless industry was known to all.

Walter A. Dinwoodie will not be soon forgotten. The West Lounge in the Students' Union Building has been renamed in his honor. But the greatest memorial to him is in the memories of the thousands of students who, over the years, enjoyed his friendly words and kindly assistance.

DR. WALTER H. JOHNS
President of the University

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Province of Alberta, lying between the prairies and the mountains, is a land of far horizons and challenging prospects in the physical sense. Its young men and women, perhaps as much as any similar group in the world, face great challenges in the spheres of education and of service to mankind.

As we add to our knowledge in the fields of physics and chemistry, biology and history, agriculture and medicine, the horizons grow ever wider and the problems still unsolved grow larger in number and in scope. Knowledge, which once seemed about to fall into rigid compartments, is now spreading over the dykes like a river in flood and the student must seek to explore it in breadth as well as in depth.

The biologist looks to the chemist and the physicist for an understanding of the living cell. The engineer calls for the utmost intellectual effort from the mathematician to help explore the reaches of outer space. The psychologist turns to experimental physiology to probe the secrets of human behaviour.

In the social and economic fields the call to service on an ever broadening scale continues to be heard. Newly created nation states in the far corners of the world look to us in Alberta to accept their young people in our schools and universities for training and education. Perhaps more important still, they seek the energy and talents of our graduates to help them create the conditions in which their people can be fed and clothed and housed, and ultimately be joined together in an organized and viable society.

The students who appear in this yearbook will share in the work to be done on a world wide scale throughout the coming years. We wish them well.

Walter H. Johns.

THE STUDENTS' UNION
UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

Before I begin, I charge you to remember that I write this in December of 1962. By the end of this term it should be considerably off the mark. It will be even less relevant but decidedly more ludicrous in thirty years.

My task here is to set out what the pattern of student activities at the University of Alberta might be in the future, particularly in view of the changes which occurred in the 1962-63 term. Most of the points below are linked with the rapid expansion of enrolment at this university—which this term has 8,276 students.

1. The potential strength of Canada's students: Few seem to realize it, but Canada's university students are now at the point where they can begin to exert a much greater influence than has been their practice in the past. I do not mean that students should attempt to rule the nation—as seems to be the custom in some countries—or even to take up the habit of starting riots. I mean that simply, for example, governments should and eventually will turn to ask the university students of Canada what they think or want. In some cases, the students will have the weight to make demands. The University of Alberta Students' Union can contribute toward this trend by giving solid support to the National Federation of Canadian University Students—which now has 105,000 members.

2. Initiative and imagination: One of the major problems facing students' councils at this university is that in view of increased enrolment, the councils must handle a large volume of administrative work. All the available time can be taken up with correspondence, committee work and the co-ordinating of established functions such as dances and Varsity Guest Weekend. The student executive must continually evaluate what it is doing, and take the initiative whenever possible. Some of the projects in this category this term are: the hard work of the 40-member Students' Union Building Expansion committee; the first student Blitz Day, undertaken on behalf of the United Campaign Fund; the chartering of an aircraft to take students to Europe this summer at low rates; looking into the advantages of incorporation for the Students' Union; saving $10,000 on the year book contract; attempting to levy a fee upon graduate students for use of Students' Union facilities; bringing the 1963 National NFCUS Congress to the U. of A.; the hiring of experts to analyze the Students' Union business office with a view to efficiency; and the re-organization of present student government structure to cope with increased enrolment and a new Students' Union Building.

3. Looking outward: There is constant danger that the University of Alberta's geographic isolation will contribute to provincialism. I must say that I was very disappointed this term when a referendum that would have established several World University Service exchange scholarships failed to receive the required two-thirds majority. However, on balance the trend to looking outward from the U. of A. continued. For example, able delegates were sent to all the major student conferences in Canada this year; the status of the U. of A. at Canadian student conferences continued to grow (we are now the fifth largest of Canada's forty universities); Students' Council soberly debated the Meredith racial discrimination issue; and, as mentioned before, the national NFCUS Congress was brought to Edmonton.

4. Money: As their programs expand, future students' councils will have to find more and more money. Indeed, money-gathering may be the only thing for which the 1962-63 council will be remembered, if at all. The $10,000 saving on the year book will be annual and if the graduate students consent to paying for the benefits they receive, many thousands of dollars will be realized in the years to come. Further, serious study has been given to the holding of a large-scale fund-raising campaign for the new Students' Union Building, and for levying Students' Union fees on students on certain small groups that seem to escape the present net.

5. Autonomy from ourselves: As the staff hired by the students for administrative purposes grows larger, there is danger that such professionals could take the lead in formulating policy. This is the case in some American universities where student-hired directors acquire vast experience and begin to assume the role of the Students' Council. There has been no problem of this nature at the U. of A. However, in the future a special student council for overseeing the operations of the Students' Union Building should be established. Such a council would be responsible to the regular Students' Council.

6. Autonomy from the university administration: The autonomy demonstrated by U. of A. student governments and newspapers is a direct result of the attitude of the administration. Student government here is allowed to make its own decisions—and its own mistakes. This is a healthy situation.

This leads to my concluding observation—a tribute to the President of the University of Alberta—Dr. Walter H. Johns. In addition to allowing students great responsibility, Dr. Johns also takes great interest in them. For example, in contrast to certain other large Canadian universities, where the students are fortunate to see their president once during their stay at university, Dr. Johns attends many student functions, small and large. He will be remembered as a well-loved president.

Only one thing can be said to mar the 1962-63 term: the passing of Walter A. Dinwoodie, the Students' Union business manager for fifteen years of unparalled service. Space permits only a summing up phrase for this tireless man: he poured much of his lifeblood into the Students' Union.

Music and SUB Expansion have received the focus of Mr. Cragg's many talents. He has been the President and Advertising Manager of the University Symphony, and Business Manager of the Music Club. His current interests include his being the Arts and Science Representative on Council, a Vice-Chairman of the SUB Expansion Committee, and the Chairman of the Cultural division of the new building.

Several years ago, each of us decided to continue our education by entering University. Undoubtedly this will remain one of the most important decisions of our lives. Let us then attempt to reveal its purpose and to assess its significance.

Why did we enter University? We realized that an education would make available to us certain valued opportunities to extend our knowledge and develop our abilities. We know that such a training would open the door to success. Having completed our training we now stand ready to receive credit for our efforts. Tomorrow we begin a new life as a contributing member of a society which has achieved a degree of prosperity never before known.

If, however, in reflecting on the value of our education our thinking has gone no farther than this, the past several years have been spent in vain. For the most important aspect of education is not the technical skill which it imparts, although this is important. Education gives us the power to look beyond the mere provision of the necessities of life. Why then is education important?

Throughout history men have been unable to avoid this question. It arises from man's capacity to develop his intellect. If you have not faced this question then you have not really acquired an education nor do you deserve the title of University graduate.

In the final analysis there are only two answers to this question. The answer you choose will determine the philosophy which is to guide your life. Education on the one hand is important because it gives one possesion of a tool of incalculable power to be used for personal end. Or education is important because it gives one possession of a tool of unlimited capacity to be used for the advancement of society and one's fellow man. In either case self-interest or the service of others is your purpose.

Because of our knowledge we now have the power to influence decisively the lives of others. How we use this power will depend on this fundamental attitude. Perhaps we regard people as tools or objects to be used to achieve certain ends. We will value them but for the moment and discard them when they are no longer of use. Then again, we may regard others individuals like ourselves. Possessing unique personalities they are of infinite value and must not be manipulated or exploited as means to an end.

The source of this power is our new found ability to analyse society and reveal the foundations upon which it stands. The foundations of any society are the values which make possible social life. Having discovered this the educated man can either exploit or build those values without which society can not exist. Thus the answer which you give to the question "why is education important" will influence decisively the life you lead.

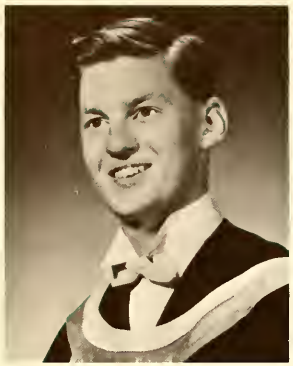
In ancient Greece, the Sophists, a group of itinerant professors, taught that knowledge was a tool which should be used to acquire power regardless of the cost in terms of social values or human life. Socrates on the other hand regarded education as the way to self knowledge. As one acquired insight into virtue one could see the fundamental nature of human life. This knowledge could then be used to develop and refine innate human capacities. The achievement of human dignity — not self grandizement — thus became the goal of Socrates.

Does it not strike you as significant that it is Socrates whom we remember and revere rather than the Sophists. Even today in a society which is almost totally preoccupied with the praise and emmulation of self-made business tycoons, the men of history whom we remember are those who used knowledge to reveal and enhance human dignity.

I have attempted to indicate that the importance of education is not the answers it gives but the question it asks. The question now lies before us and answer it we must. The alternatives are perhaps best stated by the author of this short poem.

To every man there openeth
A Way, and Whys, and a Why.
And the High Soul climbs the High Way,
And the Low Soul gropes the Low.
And in between on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth,
A High Way and a Low.
And every man decideth,
The way his soul shall go.

For the class of '63 the hour of departure has arrived and we go our ways. Which Way will you choose.



CLASS HISTORY

CHRISTOPHER D. EVANS

Although renown formerly for his spicy Gateway column, "Scrabble", Mr. Evans has managed time to partake of a great number of campus activities. His multifarious capacities include such things as script writer director of Varsity Varieties; a member of the Promotions Committee; President of Interfraternity Council, and a member of the Golden Key Society, as well as being the Vice-President of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

More recent endeavours find him the co-winner of the Clinton J. Ford Moot Shield and a member of the McGoun Debating Team.

"O, brave new world,
That has such people in't."
— Shakespeare

Once more into the breach go we, with responsibility to the right of us, the horror of honest work to the left of us, the chance to live a useful life to the front of us, and the relatively utopian years of student life already far behind us.

A student is the freest person on this Earth. Members of the Class of 1963 are already beginning to realize this fact. Oh, yes! We have complained bitterly over these past three or four years about the Reign of Terror to which we have been so unjustly subjected, featuring kangaroo courts as early as eight in the morning and fiendish hags of Hell in the shape of university professors cackling with glee as the guillotine of mid-term and final exams crashed down upon our youthful necks; we have cursed the Police for taking away our student-sponsored crosswalk at Tuck Shop; we have maligned the Administration for all sorts of impositions which we wish they had wrought so that we could still malign them; we have trodden again and again the weary road of Freshman Introduction Week, Varsity Guest Weekend, Gateway Editorial Policy, Engineers' Queen Week, and all other such instruments of academic self-destruction so disastrous to the year end average; we have digested the humble pie of the Freshman, swallowed grudgingly the crow of the sophomore, searched vainly for water in the Wasteland of the Junior, and finally we have had but one small taste of the fruits of knowledge as a senior . . . that is, we think we have.

For most disappointing to all is our realization that after three or four or . . . in some cases . . . seven years of so-called toil, we have very little to show for our efforts but a pompous piece of parchment "full of sound and fury and signifying nothing". We are all too aware of what little we know about what little our instructors know. Not only is that revelation confusing to the average graduate in the Class of 1963, it is downright depressing. But as long as we realize just one fact, that after years of 'higher learning' we really know very little, and further that we have so much more to learn, then let it be truly said that our years at University have not been in vain.

Some of us managed to conveniently avoid the racking heartbreak of the Search for Truth and Knowledge by consistently refusing to let our studies interfere with our education. The results almost made it worthwhile, and many members of this Class gained invaluable experience, a cursory knowledge of the fundamental workings of the human machine, and the basic principles of one-upmanship through the medium of extra-curricular activities. Student leaders soared to humourous heights of relative power on such vehicles as Students' Council, the Golden Key Society, Varsity Varieties, the Ballet Club, Young Canadians for Freedom, and the S.U.B. Expansion Expansionists Committee, only to come even more humourously tumbling down as Fink Of The Week or a footnote in Scrabble and Harlequin. Such things were great student empires built of, and such, such were the joys.

For we were free. We were free to disagree with others, free to question, free to complain loudly about nothing. We were free in spirit and belief, free to consort with members of the Class from all over the world with no barriers of race or religion. We were free to hope. We could sit in the scorner's seat and hurl the cynic's ban and destroy sacred cows and tromp on delicate toes without the slightest fear of reprisal, for we were the eternal students. It was our right to make mistakes, for only then could we learn and profit by them.

And these rights were given to us by our families and loved ones, who guided us through these utopian years not only morally but financially; by our professors who made us think despite our efforts to the contrary; and by our contemporaries in this brave Class of 1963 who were our friends, our acquaintances, our opponents, and sometimes our enemies in this small world unto itself that has been our world for a brief few years. I doubt that we shall ever be as free again, or as happy. Not only were we allowed to run through these fields, we had time to stop and smell the flowers along the way.

Our Class has followed behavior patterns that would drive a serious psychologist to distraction. How does one attempt to characterize a group whose members have been athletes, spurring the Golden Bears to many victories; debaters, engaging in deadly verbal vendettas and semantic subterfuge; students' Councillors, adding building blocks to crumbling empires; members of the Olde Blue Crowe, attempting to bring about significant changes in the University of Alberta by nefarious deeds of reckless wickedness? All these and many more, on our stage, four years only. And let us not forget the odd, isolated scholar. We had those, too. We had some who identified with no group, but chose to follow the crowd. All the University world was a stage, and inevitably, there were those who were content to be stagehands. But all were a vital part of the Class of 1963.

It would be impossible, therefore, to say "Our Class did this" or "Our Class was that". Our Class 'did' or 'was' what several hundred individual students did or said or wanted or were. The end result was a colorful mosaic rivalling that of the Engineering Building, and many times as artistic. At any rate, we think so. We are proud of our mosaic. We are proud of what we feel we have to offer a world sorely in need of new faces, new ideas, and, above all, new hope.

As we step with some trepidation towards this worldly sea of troubles with its whitecaps of apparent peace and harmony but its many depths of turbulence rumbling beneath the surface, we pause before assuming the snap-brim hat and the worried expression of Mr. or Miss Suburban Middle Class. We realize that, behind the veil of the old cliché "the great heritage left us by our forefathers" is a world created by our adult predecessors in which there is much to be rectified, healed and strengthened, judging from the average newspaper front page, and if the word of God is anything to go by. Maybe, we think, our Class will somehow contribute to make this world a slightly better place. At any rate, we start our useful lives in the somewhat optimistic but not altogether false belief that . . . rather than the Class of 1963 not being quite prepared for the great wide world . . . the great wide world is not quite prepared for the Class of 1963.

Nine times winner of the Hardy Cup, emblematic of W.C.I.A.A. hockey supremacy, and twelve times winner of the Hamber Trophy in the past, the Golden Bears this year came up empty in both categories. However, under Coach Clare Drake, the Bears iced an entertaining, scrappy team. With a number of rookies in the lineup, the Bears found opposition from the other western universities improved just too much. Looking back, one thing is certain: the Bear team of 1962-63 may not have compiled a record commensurate with past performance, but they made their presence felt whenever they took the ice.
